

A giant 4300 Discor (a cooking unit) made its way out of Germantown from the Dupps Co. last Friday via this 241-foot oversized vehicle. At about 220,000 pounds, the unit is probably the largest Dupps has built. The customer who ordered it is Griffin Industries in Union City, Tenn. The unit, too heavy to travel by rail, required a shut-down of two south-bound lanes on the interstate and lots of police escorts as it was delivered to Tennessee. The above photo, submitted by Don Wright, shows the length of the vehicle. The bottom photo, by Steve Sandlin, shows a closer look at the Discor.
